Middlesex Digestive Doctors Recognized on Boston Magazine's "Top Doctors" List for Second Consecutive Year

ACTON, MA (March 24, 2021) – Middlesex Digestive Health & Endoscopy Center ("Middlesex Digestive"), specialists in the evaluation, diagnosis and management of digestive diseases, is pleased to announce that Boston Magazine has recognized five of the practice's gastroenterologists on its 2021 "Top Doctors" List.

The annual survey is administered by Castle Connolly, a healthcare research and information company. Its physician-led team of researchers follows a rigorous screening protocol to select those for the list from the peer-nominated physicians. Among the Middlesex Digestive physicians designated on the list in both 2020 and 2021 are:

- Dr. Raj Devarajan
- Dr. Mark Epstein
- Dr. Gail Herzig
- Dr. Benjamin Hyatt
- Dr. Peter Krims

Since its inception in 2006, Middlesex Digestive has grown from a staff of five to over 50, including a number of physicians with decades of experience in gastroenterology and specialized areas such as IBD, Celiac, Crohn's, weight management, cancer screening and GERD management. The practice utilizes advanced therapeutics including procedures in the liver biliary tree and pancreas, which are typically performed in large urban medical centers.
